The Willbur entertainment company exhibited to a crowded house last night. The greater part of the entertainment was interesting and amusing, but there were a few parts which could be easily left out and do no damage to the interest of the whole. The stereopticon views were fine and exceedingly interesting. The views identifying Delphos much interested were all very apt, and most of them were amusing. A matinee this afternoon will give the exhibition the same success which will ground the evening part.

ESTUARINE NEWS

The Fulbright Brothers' well-earned reputation for producing the highest quality oyster has been well established but further confirmed by the success of their new venture south of Milton, Massachusetts. Just as Hartman have drilled thirteen wells on the Booth farm to a depth of 2,752 feet and have failed to develop a well. It is now considered that the well is dry.

In the same district the Southwicks Penn Oil company has drilled into a second dry well to a depth of 1,000 feet and increased the production very much.

It is now that the Catholic social sciences of the same and the influences of the church are being tossed into the air, as prepared for the first time in the history of the church, the state, and the nation in the interior. Catholicism weighs over three tons, and the weight of the church is such an enormous burden that it is a matter of much pain and difficulty.

WILLING TO HOLD THE BABY

Mr. Gilbert collected a small, young girl, who at three years of age, is called Abraham Gilbert. The daughter of the neighborhood village of Brantville, Ill. is married and the father of a small family. On Thursday evening, turning in the train from Danbury, he found among his fellow passengers a young mother sitting alone with her apparently a widow, who held in her arms a little baby dressed infant about a month old.

As the train slowed up for the station, the woman asked Mr. Gilbert if he would be so kind as to hold her child while she spoke to a friend who would be at the station. Mr. Gilbert, young at the time for he is very young,

Passenger Traffic Begun on the Ohio Southern.

A Train Leaves Lima This Morning and On Arrives at Noon.

The Ohio Southern road is open for business, both passenger and freight, and another avenue of commerce is added to Lima's resources.

To-day marked the running of the first passenger trains over the new road, which has been completed and put into operation without pomp or ceremony and is a strictly business way.

The final opening of the road for traffic means a great deal to Lima, and the benefit it will be to the city has already been commented upon and mentioned in the TIMES-DEMOCRAT, when the project was first announced.

The first passenger train arrived in Lima about noon to-day but there being some hitch in the arrangement with the C. & E. for the use of their tracks, the train did not

VIRUS

Caught a Babe and Scared the Neighborhood

Dr. R. D. Kahle, of the state board of health, has made a report to secretary Trost in the alleged case of small pox at West Newton.

Dr. Kahle reported that the case was not small pox, but vaccine exanthema, or vaccination by accident.

The supposed subject, an infant child, got this virus into her system by contact of an abrasion on the thigh with the vaccinated arm of her sister. The symptoms at first strongly resembled small pox.

Long Distance Talking.

Manager Wheaton, of the telephone exchange, yesterday put a long distance telephone into the counting room of the TIMES-DEMOCRAT office, and last night to test the working of the machine, put the TIMES-DEMOCRAT into communication with several of our neighboring towns.

The first call made was on the town of Maumee, seventy miles from Lima. Conversation was carried on with the Maumee operator upon the Maumee with as much ease as though he had been in an adjoining building.

Norwalk was next called on. A short time after that town had been connected the Norwalk operator said:

"Do you hear our town clock striking?" The TIMES-DEMOCRAT listened for a moment, and could distinctly hear Norwalk's town clock pealing out the hour of nine. Leaving that town the next connection was made with Tadmor, down near Dayton.

The same facility was observed here as on the northern line. At the request of Mr. Wheaton, the general operator at Tadmor, Mr. James Lovell, brought out his violin and rendered several pretty airs on it which were more distinctly heard in Lima and were enjoyed by several persons at this end of the line.

The long distance instrument is the coming practical telephone instrument. Its advantages to a newspaper office are manifold, and by its use we hope to still more improve our excellent news service from out-of-town points.

The TIMES-DEMOCRAT is always in the front in all enterprises which contemplate any improvement on the service given to the public.

Manager Wheaton has been hard at work for months trying to perfect this telephone service in the city, and he has succeeded in getting our local lines into excellent condition. He has placed several long distance instruments in the city and if they all give excellent service as the one placed in this office they will be constant monuments to his efficiency.

A DOZEN

Cars Piled Up in a Bad Wreck on the L. E. & W. Last Night and Brakeman Widener Jumped for His Life and Escapes Injury—Traffic Delayed.

One of the most disastrous wrecks that the L. E. & W. has had for some time, occurred at about 12:45 o'clock last night just within the east yard limit, near the old Cass factory.

The train was west bound, freight No. 115, in charge of Conductor Thomas O'Donnell, and Engineer Downing with engine No. 60. They had fifty cars and were running at a good rate of speed, approaching the curve at the Cass factory, when the trucks under a car, the second from the engine, left the track and a dozen cars followed and were piled upon one another on the track and in the ditch.

The train consisted mostly of box cars, loaded with fish and general merchandise. They were completely demolished and the contents spilt about among the debris. The track was torn up for considerable distance and the wreck crew did not get the debris and the track repaired until this afternoon.

at the "Y" connecting the L. E. & W. with the C. H. & D. and it is thought the car was struck by the car running along the ties for about ten lengths before the others left the rails and piled upon it. Among the wrecked cars was a Peerless tank car loaded with oil. The tank was burst open and the contents run out over the ground.

Head brakeman Ted Widener had a very narrow escape from being buried in the debris. He was standing on top of the car when it left the track and as soon as he felt the jar caused by the car being derailed he jumped onto the tender of the engine, and did so none too soon, for the next moment they were in the ditch.

West bound passenger train No. 3, due here at 1:15 o'clock, was transferred around to the C. H. & D. through the factory switch and got out of here at 4:37 o'clock this morning. Passenger train No. 1, due here at 1:25, was transferred the same way and the Sandusky accommodation sent out over the same route.

ROUND ABOUT.

The Monroe Manufacturing company to-day received a request from South Africa for their catalogues and price lists. The card was written at Pretoria, South Africa, November 15th, and reached New York Christmas day. It bears the post mark "Zuid-Afrika, Republiek, and is called a "Zuid-Afrika" card.

The Monroe Manufacturing company's reputation is extending when queries for their goods come from so remote a point as to require six weeks time to bring them.

The commissioners of Seneca county have introduced the parole system in the management of the county jail. Yesterday John Gorman and the two Trudeau boys, in jail for disorderly conduct, were released on signing an agreement to pay the county, the former $3 and the latter $2 per week, until their lines and debts have been paid. If the system works well the commissioners will save the county many a dollar spent in boarding petty criminals, besides securing from many of them their fines and the costs of prosecution.

Black Crook To-night.

Like good wine, "The Black Crook" has improved with age. It is not generally known, but it was an accident that ballet dancing and acrobatics were ever introduced into it. Years ago, prior to its production, James E. Hays was making preparations to produce a French spectacle, and the burning of the old Academy of Music in New York, in 1865 or '66, left the ballet people, in their hands, so they made arrangements with Mr. William Wheatley, manager of Niblo's theatre, to introduce it into "The Black Crook," which he was getting ready to put on. They were successful, and now the result is well known all over America. Accident never created a larger theatrical success. This superb spectacle will be seen at Faurot's to-night. It

QUITE WEALTHY.

So He Reported Himself, But 'Twas False.

Frank Veirs, a Dunkirk saloonist, has left for parts unknown, taking with him all his money and valuables and leaving his wife and two small children in poor circumstances, also many creditors.

Among the heaviest losers are Colter & Coles, of Wapakoneta, McDonald and McGrath, of Dunkirk. He left his business in charge of a clerk, who had the place closed. He recently moved to Dunkirk from Columbus Grove, and reported himself to be quite wealthy.
